Foreword

To us who have edited this Annual, it represents a work of vital love and loyalty which will come in the future to be a nostalgia of scenes "dear to our hearts as fond recollection presents them to view."

We have attempted to express to the Valley community our deep appreciation of their wonderful spirit toward us and the influence exerted upon us both by past and present generations by adopting a theme which acknowledges all too meagerly, for lack of space, the fine heritage of victory over defeat of the early hardships of our pioneer settlers both in establishing their homes and places of worship. In return for this noble heritage, we pledge ourselves to live up to the full measure of whatever contribution of service or sacrifice the future may ask of us.

Before this year of 1942 is over, we know that many of us will be actively engaged in conquering the worst foes ever alligned against a Christian people, and it is with the high courage of youth and the deep faith of our brave ancestors that we leave Valley High to go forth to battle to WIN.

We Dedicate

For her kindness and generosity, her guidance and hard work, we, the class of 1942 dedicate this second volume of The Viking to our principal, Mrs. Julia R. Fahey. We appreciate her tolerance, her friendly attitude and understanding and shall long cherish the pleasant memories of the days we have spent with her.

THE POOL IN THE WINTER

We hope we shall never be too far away to come back to the vacation pleasures of Valley Park. The long sunny hours in the water, swimming, playing tennis or picnicing, leave pleasant memories.

Features

LEWIS-SWINDLER HOMESTEAD

This old homestead was built in 1818 for William Lewis. The bricks were molded and burned by the slaves. The interior woodwork is hand-carved cherry, the winding stairs has wooden pegs instead of nails. General Buell and his army camped here during the Civil War.

THE GOVERNOR MERRIWETHER HOME

This old homestead, a relict of slave days, is now occupied by three branches of the James R. Scott family.

MOREMAN HOMESTEAD 1793

The home was built by County Judge Charles Farnsley and has been occupied by the family of Louis Moreman since January 1, 1861. The house has an outside stairway at the back, the interior woodwork is carved walnut, the bricks are slave work from clay on the premises and the stone trimmings were quarried on the place.

St. Andrews Church 1850
Built of stones gathered from the acres of Wisertown and by the hard labor of early settlers. It stands on a high hill overlooking the countryside.

St. Andrews Cemetery
Here in the Sunday quiet come the God-fearing, simple, country folk to pray and "long for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still."

MILL CREEK METHODIST CHURCH 1816
Shively, Kentucky

Mill Creek then flowed where St. Helens Bank now stands and on it was a mill and the old church faced the old Nashville Road. The present church, built in 1848, has for its foundation the stones from the building of the old church.

"Peck" Hickman
Basketball Coach

We of Valley are proud of our coaches of the three divisions of athletics. Their ceaseless efforts and hard work have promoted a great spirit among the teams. Our coaches work diligently behind the scene preparing the teams for their games and our cheerleaders with that rip-roaring energy and yells encourage the players during the games.

The past football season has been one of the most successful seasons in the history of the Vikings. The record was seven wins and two losses, an enviable record for any team. The team outweighed, outmanned in most of its games,and came through in top style much to the surprise of Viking followers. With the passing of football, there is a group of seniors who will leave also. This group will long be remembered in the hearts of Valley as a group who led a small inexperienced team to victory.

Playing against tremendous odds the basketball team came through with flying colors. Coach "Peck" Hickman has done one of the finest coaching jobs that we have seen in years. Without a home gym in which to play the coach and team kept battling on through game after game and ended the season with fourteen wins and seven losses. The Vikings copped the North Central Kentucky Conference and the District Tournament. Hats off to the Vikings' cage team of 41-42 which against all difficulties came through in top style.
